Is Disease a Crime?

Not very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yes criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weaknesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weaknesses, derangements and debility which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famed remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the poor, over-worked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, by him in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the womanly organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription" they abstain from being very much, or for long periods, on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

The Presbyterian Synod.

At Saturday's session in Staunton of the Presbyterian Synod of Virginia a committee was appointed to assist Norfolk Presbytery in evangelistic work in connection with the Jamestown Exposition. The overture from Abingdon Presbytery, asking that all titles and degrees be omitted from the minutes, was adopted. The committe on the establishment of a high-grade synodical college was continued. The report of the interdenominational committee on Sunday railroad trains provoked considerable discussion. The report was approved and the committee was thanked and continued. The report stated that 15 leading officials of the railroads of Virginia had met the committee. These gentlemen would like to reduce the evils of Sunday trains, which they recognize as well as the church people, and they appointed a committee of three to co-operate with the church committee to draft a bill to go before the legislature embodying the ideas of the joint committee. One railroad president is reported to have said: "If the Christian people will stop demanding Sunday trains it will be much easier for us to deal with this matter".

At yesterday's session Lexington Presbytery was allowed to devote the collections from all of its churches next March for church and Christian education to the support of Davis and Elking College. Synod asked each presbytery to appoint a committee on church and Christian education, the chairman of which shall constitute the Synod's committee. Directors of the Orphans' Home, at Lynchburg, were appointed.

Rev. Mr. J. Snedecor, secretary of colored evangelistic work, told the synod of the great work being done by the Southern Presbyterian Church for the negroes of the South.

Christian Scientists' Denial.

Boston, Oct. 30—Roused to action by the story printed in the Sunday edition of the New York World, charging that Mary Baker G. Eddy is no longer the real head of the Christian Science Church but a mere puppet in the hands of a band of designing schemers, those nearest to the aged woman have come to the front with statements in rebuttal to those given circulation. Some radical action is regarded as certain to be taken. Christian Scientists, in the very nature of their belief, are restrained from violent outbreaks and there is comparatively little manifestiation of the agitation which is known to be stirring in the breasts of the leaders of the cult. At the same time every one expresses the belief that an explosion of some sort will occur today.

This can come in two ways. The leaders can present Mrs. Eddy to the public and in that way convince the skeptical that the charges made are all false or they can institute proceedings against those who have made charges against the leaders of the cult—charges which many believe will prove strong enough to wreck the present organization of the church.

This city is a hotbed of Christian Science, and it is now taking orders from Pleasant View, Mrs. Eddy's home, rather than from the city hall.

Feeling against newspapers and newspaper men is strong and there is a marked disinclination on the part of the Christian Science people to dignify the charges with a reply.

Death of Bishop Nicholson.

Bishop Issac Lea Nicholson, of Milwaukee, who was born in Baltimore and was for a long time assistant rector of Old St. Paul's Church in that city, died yesterday in Milwaukee. His death was due to an ailment of the heart and came after a lingering illness.

Bishop Nicholson was a son of the late John J. Nicholson, senior member of the banking firm of J. J. Nicholson & Son of Baltimore. He studied theology at Dartmouth College and at the Theological Seminary near this city.

After the completion of his studies he was elected in 1872 assistant rector of Old St. Paul's, Baltimore, where he continued until 1875. Part of this time he was in charge of the work at St. James' First African Church. For a brief period he was rector of Ascension parish, Westminister, Md. He then became rector of St. Mark's Church, Philadelphia, where he remained until elected Bishop of Milwaukee. He was widely known as an advanced high churchman.

He married Miss Adele Ellicott, daughter of Mr. Henry W. Ellicott, of Baltimore.

Dr. Nicholson leaves one son, Mr. Isaac Lea Nicholson.

May Priest Eat With Bishop?

Should a bishop eat with an ordinary clergyman? Some members of the Women's Auxiliary Committee of the Protestant Episcopal Church think it wouldn't hurt the bishops a bit. The majority believe that the bishops' dinner ought to be protected from the younger and, perhaps, hungrier wearers of the cloth.

This subject was debated at length this week in connection with arrangements for the annual conference in Philadelphia November 9. It appeared that the bishops' dinner was eaten last year before the bishops got a chance at it, and that Bishop Whittaker didn't get a bite, one or two bishops having to content themselves with a few leavings.

It was declared that the younger preachers ate outrageously, and although the women spread a least for 100 persons more than had been expected, there was nothing left.

Consequently, the bishops' table will be in a separate room this year, and members of the committee will stand guard at the door to prevent plain preachers approaching it.

Widows Swindled.

Wealthy Chicago widows have been swindled out of more than $100,000, the police say, by Samuel Rosenfield, who was arrested Sunday night. Detectives met considerable difficulty in making the arrest, owing to the opposition of the family. Rosenfield admitted getting large sums of money from women, the police say, but denied that his scheme was a swindle.

According to the police Rosenfield, is is alleged, posed as a wealthy broker and real estate man, and had little difficulty in inducing persons of means to invest in his schemes. It is said more than $20,000 was obtained from one woman in Cincinnati in a "book venture." The police was told that a woman in St. Louis intrusted $50,000 to Rosenfield less than three months ago.

Rosenfield, the police say, less than two months ago, was mixed up in a case in Cincinnati. It is charged that since then he induced Mrs. E. Root, a brewer's widow, in Edwardsville, Ill., to invest $10,000, and went to Chicago. In connection with this case Sheriff T. Crow, of Edwardsville, was hurried to Chicago, and after the arrest the prisoner was turned over to him.

DEFERRED ITEMS.

John M. Clark, of Grass Valley, Cal., was buried Sunday in the grave that he had dug for himself years ago and cared for.

Western Texas had its first lynching Saturday evening, when a mob of cowboys gathered in Toyah and hanged Slab Pitt, a negro, to the crossarm of a telegraph pole. The offense of which Pitt was guilty was having a white wife.

A score of human heads, ghastly trophies of the prowess of the Sultan's troops in the recent fighting against the troops of the Pretender, are being exhibited at Tangier publicly. They are intended as a warning to rebellious subjects. These heads were brought from the Riff coast of northern Morocco.

The French submarine boat Lutin, which sank near Bizerta on October 16, and which was subsequently raised, has been towed to the Ferryville dock, Tunis. Sixteen bodies have been taken out of the vessel. Some of them were much decomposed. Many of the men died clasped in each others arms.

Automobile Accident.

Robert M. Snyder, a millionaire, of Kansas City, under indictment in St. Louis on a charge of bribery, was killed Saturday night in an automobile accident in Kansas City. Snyder, in his own automobile, which was driven by Frank M. Schroeder, had just passed a moving trolley car when the chauffeur saw a small boy jump from a bicycle directly in the path of the automible. In an effort to save the boy Schroeder turned the machine toward the curb. As the automible struck the curb Snyder, who was in the rear seat, was thrown against an iron trolley pole and his skull was fractured at the base of the brain. The boy, Arthur Rodell, was probably fatally injured. Schroeder was not hurt.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING. OCT. 30, 1906.

INSPECTOR GENERAL GARLINGTON, of the army, has recommended that three companies of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, a colored regiment, be disbanded and that every enlisted man be discharged from the service without honor for declining to give the names of those members of the command who conducted themselves in a riotous manner at Brownsville, Tex., last August. It is understood that the recommendation of Gen. Garlington passed through Secretary Taft's hands without definite indorsement, and it is more than probable the President will take no action until after November 8—for political reasons.

THE ELECTION is near at hand and every democratic voter in the district should go to the polls and cast his vote for Hon. John F. Rixey for Congress. While no one considers his opponent at all dangerous, still it would be a just recognition of Mr. Rixey's faithful services to give him the largest majority he has ever received. Mr. Rixey having been obliged, by reason of ill health, to remain away from home has been prevented from making a canvass and this should spur his friends on to greater exertion in his behalf.

AN EPIDEMIC of duels is threatened in Havana as the result of political grudges, arising from the revolution. It is believed that over thirty have so far been arranged, and will take place within the next two weeks. A few have already been fought between minor officials of the government and former revolutionary officers, but they have been entirely harmless as will be the others to be fought The Cuban is even more ridiculous than the French duel—if such were possible.

MR. PERRY BELMONT writes to the chairmen of the two congressional campaign committees requesting them to make public their receipts and expenditures in the present campaign. Of course they will comply with the request, especially the republican chairman.

FOOTBALL claimed another victim Saturday, when Leonard Hammerle, aged fifteen, a student of the South Side School, at Pittsburg, dropped dead during the progress of a game. And the season had barely commenced.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Oct. 30.

Pending a full report of the anti-Japanese agitation in California and more particularly in the city of San Francisco, the United States government will take no further move to combat the outburst of feeling in Japan against this country. It was learned today that Secretary of Commerce and Labor Metcalf has been instructed by the President, among other things, to ascertain definitely if Japanese children have been excluded from the San Francisco schools, as claimed in Japan, or whether there has simply been an application of the age limit for admission to the public schools which has prevented the attendance of Japanese youths of twenty or more years. The State Department, while still much concerned over the sudden dislike for America which has developed among the Japanese people, is inclined to believe that the troubles between the two countries will find a satisfactory adjustment which will lead to a return to those friendly feelings which have animated the people of the two countries in the past. It has been suggested that Great Britain being anxious to strengthen her position in the far East, is responsible for the anti-American outburst in Japan which this government has, it is thought, successfully overcome by the strenuous action taken to show that the insults shown the Japanese were confined to one State and did not, in the slightest degree, receive support from the Federal Government.

Disgust mixed with amusement was the feeling shown by officials of the State Department today when their attention was called to what they characterize the remarkable speech made in Berlin last Saturday by Prof. Burgess of Columbia University, who is the first incumbent of the Theodore Roosevelt professorship of American history at the University of Berlin, Germany. The statements made by Prof. Burgess that high protective tariff and the Monroe doctrine are obsolete in this country are stigmatized as canards manufactured by Prof. Burgess without any authority from any one connected with the American government. It was declared at the State Department to day by a high officials that the Monroe doctrine was not only not obsolete, but was even more than ever one of the fundamental principles of the United States government and one which it was the intention of this country to uphold always. While the President it is said is doing his utmost to encourage friendly relations between the United States and Germany there is authority for the statement that he will not stand for the remarks made on Saturday last is Berlin by Prof. Burgess.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt will leave tomorrow for Pine Knob, the Virginia cottage belonging to Mrs. Roosevelt, in Albemarle county. The President expects to be gone the remainder of the week and will not receive any more visitors at the White House until after his return from Panama. On Monday night he starts for Oyster Bay to vote.

Mrs. Hartje Rejects Deal With Husband

Clifford Hooe, the negro formerly employed as coachman by Augustus Hartje, the millionaire paper manufacturer, and now on trial in the Pittsburg courts for perjury as the result of an affidavit that he had been too friendly with Mrs. Hartje, is on trial because attorneys for the Commonwealth and Mrs. Hartje refused to accept a plea of nolle contendere, or no defense, for him.

The offer of such a plea was made by Attorney J. Scott Ferguson, chief counsel for Hartje and Hooe, in consideration of abandonment of the conspiracy charge now pending against Hartje and John L. Welshons, a brother-in-law.

The evidence against Hooe in the perjury case will be important in the trial of Hartje and Welshons, who are indicted with Hooe for conspiracy to defame Mrs. Hartje. The proffer of Mr. Ferguson to plead nolle contendere was with the idea of allowing Hooe to go to the penitentiary and let Hartje escape the possible consequences of his alleged conspiracy. Inspite of the awful character of the testimony the negro gave on the witness stand in his own defense, and which Mrs. Hartje has been told to expect, she insisted upon his trial, in order that the evidence might be used against Hartje to punish him for his effort to blacken her name in his now famous divorce proceedings against her.

Lawyers Keep Their Fees.

According to an opinion delivered yesterday in the Supreme Court of the United States, attorneys cannot be compelled to refund money paid to them for the prosecution of a claim against an insurance company, even though the claim is afterward found to have been fraudulent. The decision was by Justice Holmes and was delivered in the case of Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company vs. United States Senator Charles A. Culberson and other attorneys who represented the defendant in the case of the Fidelity Company against Jennie Smythe, of Texas. Mrs. Smythe held an insurance policy on the life of her brother, which was settled by the company upon his disappearance, with indications of drowning, half the amount going to the attorneys. The brother afterward was found to be alive, and Mrs. Smythe was ordered by the Texas courts to make restitution of the amount received by her, but the court refused to make that order with reference to the sums received by the attorneys. Yesterday's decision upholds that finding. Justice Holmes said in his opinion that it was evident that the money had been taken in good faith.

His Will a Joke

Deep disappointment brews over the headquarters of the Brewery Workers' Union, in Washington. Julius Lindauer, a member of the union, who died in Pittsburg last week, left a will directing that $1,000 of his money be used for his funeral, including cremation, and $2,000 for an entertainment at an elaborate banquet of the members of the Washington union. The local members, upon reading of their good luck in a Pittsburg dispatch, began to make plans for the purchase of great quantities of beer, sauerkraut, schnitzel, pretzels and other delicacies.

Mike Schmidt was made a beneficiary of the will and thought it only right that he go to Pittsburg to mourn the loss of his friend. It cost him $60 for the trip, but the president of the union said yesterday that it was believed that Lindauer left no money whatever, but took his life because of financial embarrassment. He was in debt to the union.

Preparation for the banquet has ceased, and the suggestion is heard that perhaps Lindauer played a post-mortem joke on his friends.

Serious Cutting Affray.

News was received at Danville yesterday of a fight between three young farmers, which occurred Saturday night while an entertainment was in progress about eight miles from Danville, and may result fatally to two of the combatants. Samuel and John Yates, sons of Bennett Yates, of Dry Fork, were cut almost to death by Dick Heymore, son of Reuben Heymore. One of the Yates boys and Heymore have been paying attention to the same young woman and this is said to have been the cause of the trouble. The two Yates boys beat Heymore almost unconscious before he either pulled a knife out of his pocket or the weapon was given him, and he slashed his assailants a number of times. Fully 50 stiches were taken in their wounds.

Two Boys Burned to Death.

While locked in their little playhouse yesterday two sons of Thomas Quirion, aged four and six years, of Augusta, Me., played with matches and started a fire which burned them to death. The house was a reconstructed dry goods box, erected in the yard of the family on Mills street. The boys went into it yesterday morning and shortly afterward the place was seen to be on fire. All efforts to extinguish the flames were in vain, and when the ruins were pulled over the bodies of the children were found burned to a crisp. It is supposed that the boys were overcome by the smoke while trying to extinguish the blaze, and was unable to open the door, which was fastened on the inside.

The vote came on an amendment, which was offered by Lord Heneage (liberal), makes religious instruction compulsory during a part of the daily school hours in all public elementary schools. Shoemaker Stabbed to Death.

Louis Lorenz, a Brooklyn shoemaker, was stabbed to death yesterday and his wife so severely wounded that she may die, by Guiseppe Calibretto, an Italian. Mrs. Lorenz received her injuries when she sought to restrain the Italian from continuing his attack upon her husband. The assailant and his brother, who was present when the trouble occurred, made their escape. The trouble which led to the murder of Lorenz and the injuries to his wife grew out of a debt of $35 which Calibretto owed Lorenz. When the brothers visited his shop Lorenz demanded immediate payment of the debt. Giuseppe became enraged, hot words were exchanged and suddenly the Italian drew a knife, sprang upon the shoemaker and plunged it into his body. Mrs. Lorenz rushed to her husband's assistance, but Calibretto turned upon her and drove the knife several times into her breast. She was unconscious on the floor beside her dead husband when a policeman arrived.

Boston, Oct. 30.—With five tons of gold specie valued at $2,725,000 in her hold, the largest shipment of the yellow metal ever received at this port, the British steamer Arabistan anchored today in Boston harbor. The Arabistan is the ship which caused her owners great anxiety by failing to make Havana during the time of the Cuban hurricane. The gold comes from Buenos Ayres, consigned to the City Bank, of New York, and the Second National Bank of Boston.

It is intended to include every worker in the cause of education in the State, official and unofficial. Its object is to make known and discuss policies, coordinate and harmonize the work of every department, unify plans and secure co-operation of effort.

It is the earnest desire of the department that every school official, who can possible come, will attend the meeting.

The committee having in charge the programme for the educational conference, has tentatively adopted the following general outline for the programme;

The division superintendents of schools will meet and organize. While the division superintendents are in session, the school trustees, county supervisors and other officials connected with the management of the school affairs of the State, excepting the division superintendents, will assemble in a separate meeting and effect an organization. Shot by Mistake.

Clayton B. French, clubman, and son of a millionaire of Philadelphia, was shot in mistake for a burglar by his friend, W. B. Audenreid, jr., stock broker, at the Montgomery Inn, Bryn Mawr, Sunday. The physicians are afraid to probe for the bullet, which entered his lungs through the back, until the young man gains a little more strength. His condition is very critical. After the shooting, which took place at 1 o'clock in the morning, when French was trying to enter the inn, where both lived, he showed remarkable nerve in concealing his painful and serious condition from the other guests.

Aroused by the shots, these guests rushed to the windows and doors to ascertain the cause of the shooting. Not wishing to unduly alarm any one, Mr. French, who had been assisted to his feet by W. B. Franklin, walked quietly to his room, given onlookers the impressions that he was unhurt.

Today's Telegraphic News

Lover Found.

New York, Oct. 30.—Flashing over the cable across the wide expanse of the Atlantic, interrupting for a brief moment the exchange of sordid business communications, went one brief little message which carried more joy to the recipient than has come into her life in six long years.

"Albrecht is found," read the message, and it told to a love-sick girl across the water, that her faithful wait of years for a missing lover had been rewarded and the search she had prosecuted for the man of her choice has at last been successful.

This girl is the daughter of an American millionaire, and for six years she has waited for the return of a lover who left her to seek his fortune when her cruel parents forbade his attentions at that time because they believed the man to be a mere fortune hunter.

Albrecht Becker, former officer in the German army, is the man. Since she parted from him in New York in 1900 the girl has heard no word from him. But she has remained faithful to him and refused other suitors, even when she received apparently authentic information that Becker, disappointed and discouraged, had killed hims lf in Chicago. Until she knew positively of his death she said she would not give him up.

Then the parents relented. Believing that the restoration of her lover would alone bring her happiness, they eagerly began a search for him, and this hunt has at last proved successful.

Becker has been located in Florida. Word of his whereabouts was brought to Adolf Kaufman, who has been in charge of the search, yesterday. Today the message was sent to the girl and a man started south to identify Becker and tell him of the good fortune in store for him.

At present Becker is employed as time-keeper for the East Coast Railway at $60 a month. He is known among his fellow employes as "Dutch Al." George Schneider, a civil engineer who worked with Becker, brought the word of where he is. When Kaufman's agent finds "Dutch Al," Becker, will not only learn that his former sweetheart has remained true to him, but will find that a comfortable fortune awaits him. His father cut the young man off without a cent, but his sister, the Baroness Von Kaskel, to whom the family fortune was left, has decided to share it with her brother.

Love and fortune will come to Becker together if the identification of "Dutch Al" proves correct.

The Atlantic City Horror.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 30.—Several additional bodies of victims of the railway disaster on the Thoroughfare bridge were discovered today by divers. They were buried in the mud under the trucks of the second car which have not yet been raised. From eight to fourteen of the passengers of the ill-fated train are still unaccounted for. Hope that any of them is alive has about been abandoned and it is expected the total death list will be fixed at 66.

Dynamite will be employed to destroy the trucks of the coach which are still at the bottom of the creek.

Fifty-three of the victims have already been identified and one unidentified body remains at the morgue.

That wreckers are responsible for the terrible railway disaster of Sunday is the latest theory advanced to account for the accident, and it is given by no less an authority than Chief of Police Maxwell. He believes river pirates may have purposely wrecked the train for spite. The police have discovered that Daniel Stewart, tender of the bridge, recently has had trouble with river pirates and had twice been assaulted because of his warfare upon them. Chief Maxwell believes it is more than possible some of the rough element may have tampered with the draw out of revenge. Detectives are now looking for three men who the police say may be able to throw some light on the matter.

Mrs. Eddy.

Concord, N. H., Oct. 30.—Following an exhaustive search and inquiry, and based upon interviews with 147 men and women, some Christian scientists and others open opponents of the faith, members of Mr. Eddy's personal household and others who have been forbidden to speak under pain of losing their position, the Publishers Press correspondent is today able to say that so far as it is possible for any man to learn without a personal interview with her Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy is not a mental wreck as has been stated.

Mrs. Eddy still retains a great portion of her intellect and able to give general consideration to her affairs and has not become a practical imbecile, as it is said, but it is true that she is failing rapidly and that her mind is no longer capable of mastering the mass of detail with which she formerly wrestled.

The report that she is suffering from an incurable malady, supposed to be cancer, is hardly true. She is very ill, requiring the most contant attention and care, but her ills are those that come from the action of eighty-six years on her physical make up. She suffers from many bodily ills.

Red Flags in Procession.

New York, Oct. 30.—Red flags carried in processions, ashes of the same color worn by the hundreds of marchers and even more lurid talk, are the latest developments of the campaign as it is being fought out on the East Side. The resort to these influences as vote getters is on the part of the socialists who find many supporters of the blood-colored banner they carry in their processions. It is only in the last few days that the red flags and ashes have made their appearance in the socialists' parade.

Ostend, Belgium, Oct. 30.—Twenty-three persons were drowned today in the sinking of the German steamer Hermann, bound from Antwerp to the Mediterranean. Washington, Pa., Oct. 30.—In the excess of joy at seeing her mother, from whom she had been parted for several hours for the first time in her short life Freda, the 3 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herrmann Stein of Canonsburg, died in her mother's arms yesterday evening, her heart being unable to withstand the strain of the releif. Mrs. Stein had gone out to shop at noon, leaving her daughter with a maid, and the child had worried for her return throughout the afternoon, and when Mrs Stein appeared in the doorway yesterday evening little Freda threw herself in her arms with a sob of joy and releif. Her body immediaty became limp, and before medica laid could be ammoned she had died. "Death from heart failure, superintended by excessive joy," was the coroner's findings.

Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union Convention met in Hartford, Connecticut, in Parsan's Theatre, last week, 600 delegates strong, Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens, of Portland, Me., National president, presiding. One very interesting feature was the presence of a number of the foreign delegates, who attended the world's convention held in Boston, giving brief accounts of the work in their respective countries. The ladies received a royal welcome in Hartford from Gov. Roberts, of Connecticut, the mayor of the city, the pastors, and the people in general. The capitol was thrown open Saturday from 5 to 7 o'clock p. m., and a reception tendered the delegates of convention, the governor and mayor receiving.

The pulpits of sixty-four of the churches of the city and vicinity were filled on Sunday by the ladies of the convention where the gospel temperance was preached to the people of Hartford and vicinity. Delegates from every state of the union were present, reporting work and giving plans and ideas from north, and south, east and west, all in one common sistergood, beautifully manifesting the spirit and leadership of the divine hand in all things. The increase in membership is very marked.

Jamestown Exposition Notes.

Races between military balloons of different nationalities will be not the least of the aerial attractions at the Jamestown Ter-Centennial Exposition.

Germany will send some of her crack land forces as well as war ships to represent her at the Jamestown Exposition. It is likely that Prince Henry of Prussia will command the naval detachment.

The international yacht races to be held in Hampton Roads off the Jamestown Exposition in 1907 will have competition from all parts of the world. The prizes offered will be attractive and the large attendance of yachtsman will make these races of greater interest than any held in years. Some celebrated boats will compete.

Unsatisfactory Sentence.

There is much dissatisfaction in Henrico county over the sentence of 20 years' imprisonment meted out to Austin Johnson, the negro twice convicted of criminally assulting an 11 year old white child, Ruth Pinchbeck Johnson at his first trial was sentenced to death, but the Supreme Court of the State reversed the decision on the ground that evidence discovered after the trial discredited it. At the second trial the testimony of an important witness for the prsecution was not admitted, the Supreme Court's decision having thrown doubt on it. The Commonwealth's Attorney himself is not satisfied with the result of the second trial, and it is possible that the State may again appeal the case. Judge Clopton, in passing sentence Saturday, declared that he was "fully satisfied" of the prisoner's guilt and told the negro he was fortunate in the jury's failure to condemn him to die.

According to a dispatch to the London World from Madrid, the accouchement Queen Victoria is expected in April.

Virginia Horses Wins Again.

The second annual meeting of the United Hunts Racing Association closed at Bennings yesterday. It was another clean-up for the Virginians, four races out of the six going to the southerners. Courtland Smith won a steeplechase with Palm and a flat race with Pete Dailey; Billy Garth won a steeplechase with Northville, in which Richard Wallach, another Virginia, came second with Setauket, while Dion Kerr won a good steeplechase with his game little mare, Follow On. Orilamme, the winner of the six-furlong dash, that was first on the card, was bred by H. Rozier Dulaney. Still another race might be claimed by Virginia, since Lieutenant I. S. Martin, of the Fifteenth Cavalry, who rode the winner in the Military Cup steeplechase, is a native of Loudoun county.

The Machinists' Strike.

It is still said that an early settlement of the strike of the Southern Railway machinists is expected. It has been ascertained that the negotiations, which were declared off a week ago when the committee representing the strikers declined to accept a proposition to submit the case to a board of arbitration, are about to be resumed, through the efforts of the National Civic Federation.

H. B. Spencer, general manager of the Southern, announces that at the suggestion of Chairman Seth Low, of the National Civic Federation, President Samuel Spencer, of the Southern, will meet President O'Connell and a committee of machinists in the near future in an effort to effect a prompt and equitable adjustment of the strikers' grievances. The conference will take place on Thursday.

Conditions in and around the Southern Railway depot in this city were practically unchanged this morning. No one was working in the machine shops, nor were any workmen engaged in putting together the new locomotives recently purchased.

All the supports for the bridge the company proposes to erect over Henry street have been placed in position.

The fourteen men sent to this city from the Baldwin Locomotive Works to place the new engines in condition for service were mingling with the machinists formerly employed in the shops here, the former, as stated in the Gazette yesterday, having refused to work after their observation of the conditions prevailing at the depot. They say they will not be placed in the position of strikebreakers, nor work on the Southern system while a strike is in progress.

It had been stated in a newspaper of a neighboring city that the Philadelphians were strikebreakers, and the men were earnest in denials of this imputation. They say they were sent here from the Baldwin Works to put the new locomotives together and that they are not in any way employed by the Southern Company. Upon reaching this city and realizing that there was a strike of the machinists and that they would be compelled to work within an enclosure and under armed guards, they concluded not to obey the orders of those who sent them here, saying that they desired to enjoy perfect freedom while in Alexandria. All the men belong to mechanics' unions.

The Southern Company recently purchased sixty new locomotives. They are of the "800" series, intended for the freight service of the system, and are of the largest pattern. Heretofore new engines have been put together by the company's machinists. The locomotives cannot be accepted nor paid for by the company until they shall have been placed in running order; hence the effort of the Baldwin Company to place the locomotives in proper condition. Ten of these new engines are now in the yard in this city.

Geo. C. Keintz, of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, of Philadelphia, Pa., was here today with twenty-five men who have been employed there. He said the Baldwin works did not take on all union men, but took on every man who could handle a machine. The Baldwin works, he said, had to turn out 60 or 65 engines a year, and it did not matter whether union or non-union men were employed, but the company paid union wages. Mr. Keintz explained this to the men today and said that it did not make any difference whether they went to work or not, as the Baldwin works had the contract to fill and whether it was union on non-union work it must be filled. He also said that the Baldwin works had as much as they could do for the next three years, and if the machinists of the Southern Railway did not wish to handle their work they could let it stay idle.

Colored Boy Shot.

A colored boy named Eugene Wilson was brought to the Alexandria Hospital today with a dangerous wound in the right side of his head caused by a ball from a pistol. His condition is critical. According to Wilson, he was shot by another colored boy named Willis Lewis. From what could be learned of the shooting it occurred at the new railway culvert over Wythe street extended. The two boys had been engaged in a game of crap when a dispute arose between them. Wilson, it is alleged, was shot by Lewis while he was walking away from him. The wounded boy was in no condition to talk when he was seen at the hospital, and the fact that his right eye was bruised, swollen and closed, his right ear injured and his face scratched, as though he had been dragged, it was evident that he had had another experience which he failed to explain. It is said that a horse attached to a baker's wagon ran away near the culvert and upset the vehicle at the time the shooting occurred, Wilson, after having been shot in the [illegible] boys live near Hunting Creek, Alexandria county, and one of [illegible]

[illegible] corroborates the statement made in this column to the effect that a large percentage of negroes, young and old, carry such weapons.

The New Electric Company.

The work of placing a new roof upon the building at the foot of Wolfe street recently acquired by the Alexandria Electric Company is nearing completion, and the machinery for the new plant is expective to arrive daily. The manager of the works says that thirty miles of new wire and electric machinery of the most approved pattern are now in transitu. It is said that the new plant will be in operation by the 10th of December.

The Alexandria Electric Company has sold to Mr. Fred T. Lewis, of Philadelphia, the southern part of the lot on Union street running from Wolfe to Wilkes. The sale will in no wise interfere with that part of the property to be used by the electric company. It is reported that Mr. Lewis will start a manufactory of some kind on the property, the character of which, however, has not been announced.

Sentenced to be Hanged.

Judge Barley, of the Corporation Court, today heard arguments on the motion for a new trial for Howard Banks, colored, who was recently found guilty of the murder of Thomas Elzey, also colored. Banks was represented by Messrs Lewis H. Machen and R. C. L. Moncure and the State by Commonwealth's Attorney Brent.

In the motion made by Banks for a new trial this morning Mr. Moncure made an able argument, and insisted that a motive had not been proven.

He was followed by Mr Brent for the Commonwealth, who reviewed the incidents at the trial to show that malice had been shown.

Senator Machen followed in a speech of one and a half hours, and made an exhaustive argument in favor of Banks.

Judge Barley overruled this motion, and, as stated above, sentenced Banks to be hanged on Friday, January 11, 1907.

The judgment of the court was suspended, on motion of the accused, for sixty days in order to let him apply to the Supreme Court for a writ of error and supersedeas.

During the arguments the question of the number of bar-rooms in Alexandria came up, and it was shown that these bar-rooms had existed for years, and it was now a difficult proposition which should be revoked. All of them stood upon the same footing, but it was assumed that any person who had a license, and should violate the law would have his license revoked.

When sentence was pronounced there was quite a crowd in the court room, mostly colored people. To the usual question asked the prisoner by the Clerk if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced, Banks replied that he threw himself on the mercy of the court. The scene was very solemn and impressive and when Judge Barley pronounced the sentence of death the mother of Banks sobbed hysterically and left the court room. This was the first time Judge Barley has ever pronounced the death sentence and he was visibly affected while doing so.

Banks, it will be remembered, shot and killed Thomas Elzey in a saloon in the northeastern section of the city early on the night of October 4. He was examined in the Police Court next morning, sent on to the grand jury and subsequently indicted. He was later placed on trial and a verdict declaring him guilty of murder in the first degree returned.

The Trial of Policemen.

Hearing of testimony in the trial of Capt W. H. Mathews and Lieut William B. Mulhall, charged with conduct unbecoming police officers, was resumed yesterday afternoon before the Washington police trial board. J. T. Robey, a railroad man, declared he was struck by one of Capt. Mathews' men while in the act of assisting in the rescue of Engineer Hugh Murphy. Robey explained that he was kneeling beside the engine when one of the officers struck him on the jaw, knocking him to the ground. Subsequently, he said, he was forced through the lines and told not to again come near the scene. Several other witnesses also testified. The prosecution will rest its case this morning after which the witnesses for Capt. Matthews will be heard. More than a score of witnesses will be examined, and the trial will probably consume most of the week.

Death of Mr. Wolf.

Mr. William C. Wolf, an old and well-known resident, died at his home, southeast corner of King and Fayette streets, last night. The deceased had been a sufferer from organic troubles for a long time. He was born in Washington 61 years ago, and was a son of the late William Wolf, who many years ago conducted a bakery on the south side of Wolfe street, between Fairfax and Eee. He later removed the bakery to upper King street. The subject of this notice was a quiet and respected citizen. He had been engaged in the baking business since boyhood. He leaves a widow and four children.

Returned Home.

Two young women, one 16 years old, and the other 17, left their homes in the southwestern section of the city last Sunday afternoon, as was supposed, to attend a Sunday school. It is said that they did not return to their homes until last night. The young women, it subsequently appeared, proceeded in the direction of Theological Seminary and were later seen going in the direction of St. Asaph Junction. The matter was reported to the station house and up to 7 o'clock last night the police had been unable to locate the young women. They later returned home.

The Recent Murder.

There have been no new developments in the Smith murder case today. Neither Johnson, the murderer, nor Robinson, his companion, who disappeared from the city on the night of the killing of Mr. Smith, have so far been arrested. The police officer who left here Sunday night for a northern city to identify a man supposed to be Johnson, who it was thought would have been taken into custody by this time, has not returned nor has any news of the arrest of the man been received here.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

[illegible] the will of [illegible]ington, was [illegible], colored, consents heard on a [illegible]tion overruled; [illegible] an appeal, and prisoner sentenced to be hanged on January 11 next.

All Hallow'en Tomorrow.

As the 31st of October draws near, many of the younger people begin to think of Hallowe'en, with its many possibilities for weird and merriest of entertainments. This is not the most dignified of social functions it is one of frivolity, merriment and telling of fortunes. If the young girl does not find out whom she is going to marry on that night she may have to wait another year before making this very important discovery.

Those who live in the country will find their barns an ideal place for a Hallowe'en, party, while those living in the city will have to be content to turn their living or drawing room into something to resemble a greenwood and for the fun that is sure to follow very few of them object to doing so.

JEWELRY.

Going Housekeeping?

If so, you can hardly get along without spoons, knives and forks. The silver-plated are without a doubt the most economical in the end. They wear longer, look better and cost very little more than the ordinary kinds. We can even supply silver-plated knives with steel blades.

Your sideboard is hardly complete without a silver set. Silver cake and fruit baskets should also be placed there.

A candelabra with will brighten the table considerably. After the spread has been cleared off a silver fern dish should be placed on the table.

The necessary things in cut-glass are the decanter, the berry bowl and the celery dish. In a great many homes the ice cream is served on cut glass plates.

On your dresser place a travelling alarm clock and a sterling silver or silver-plated toilet set, also a hat and clothes brush.

You will find plenty use of a number of small silver-plated trays. One has always so many trinkets to take care of.

There should be a jewel case on the dresser, if only for appearance sake. Over night it is a good place to keep the watch and Z—K Gold Chain.

The Marvels of Science.

When we hear of rays of light capable of achieving photography through a foot thickness of solid iron, of the charting of the sky itself on such a scale that a thousand million members of the firmament can be recorded each in its appointed place, of the discovery of something like the sense organs of human knowledge on the roots, stems and leaves of plants; of the tracking of diseases which decimate humanity to their obscure source in the parasite of a parasite and of the process by which two patient and humble scientists working upon a few grains of an element in a mere secondary form managed to revolutionize our whole conception of the most stupendous forces of the physical world it seems indeed a mystery that the appetite for surprise and sensation should turn aside from what the pursuit of truth can offer and prefer to regale itself with the petty products of trumpery, invention and ingenuity. — Pall Mall Gazette.

Beauty of Clouds.

It is not of first sight easy to say why people so rarely give more than a passing glance to the realm of air above them. Is it because we cannot have a finger in this department of the wonders of nature, cannot net and label anything in those blue fields, pin it down on cork or fatten it in Canada balsam; cannot here annihilate distance with our ingenious instruments, that we neglect the phenomena of the sky? There above us, always ours for a lift of the eyes, is beauty in endless change for the contented mind and for the restless one the challenge of the ceaseless thaumaturgy which seems little nearer being found out than when the world began, and yet in comparison with such lines of research as are offered by cuckoo's eggs or the "protective devices" of caterpillars the region of the clouds may be said to be unexplored.—Saturday Review.

Stilt Marks on China.

Hunting for stilt marks on old china is often good fun in itself. Almost every old piece of flatware—i. e., plates, platters, saucers, etc.—shows three little rough spots more or less clearly marked on both sides, usually on the margin. These spots were made in the firing by the cockspur of stilts, the little tripods used between the plates in piling them up in the kiln. The three points where the cockspur touched the plate caused a defect in the glaze. Unfortunately stilt marks are not as sure a guarantee of authenticity as some collectors have supposed, for they are not only easy to imitate, but they are sometimes imperceptible on the old Staffordshire. Furthermore, they appear very frequently on modern tableware of the cheaper sort and so are no sign of antiquity.—Country Life In America.

Weighing Common Air.

The weight of air has often been tested by compressing it in receptacles by the air pump. That it really has weight when so compressed is shown by the fact that the weight of the vessels is increased slightly by filling them with compressed air and that such vessels become specifically "lighter" as soon as the air contained in them is exhausted. Many elaborate experiments on the weight of air have proved that the cubic foot weighs 536 grains, or something less than one and a quarter ounces. The above experiment on the weight of air is supposed to be made at the surface of the earth with the temperature at 50 degrees F. Heated air or air at high elevations is much lighter.

A Deferred Call.

In a certain town in the county of Wexford there is a house the door of which must be raised a little to be opened, and for this purpose the hatchet is generally used. One night lately a knock came to the door, and a youngster was sent to see who was there.

"Who is there?" he inquired.

"Me," said a voice outside.

The youngster, knowing the voice, shouted back (in such a tone that the person outside could hear him):

"It's Mrs. Murphy. Get the hatchet!" Needless to say Mrs. Murphy didn't wait.—Pearson's Weekly.

He Wouldn't Wake.

One evening last week Mr. Poindexter, a traveling man, had a remarkable dream. He seemed to be exploring an old and unusued attic in his dwelling house. Presently he uncovered an ancient chest. He opened it and found it full of gold and silver.

So strong was the impression upon him that he realized at once the utter folly of waking up. Thereupon he slept on and continued to dream.—Chicago Tribune.

Bad Error.

"That was a rather serious mistake the types made in speaking of young Golightly."

"In what way?"

"Changed a 'u' into an 'a' and said he was a ragged specimen of athletic manhood."

Human Blood Marks.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well known merchant of Bac, Ky.. He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures Hemmorhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for Weak Lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.
